

Los Angeles Area
Chamber of Commerce

Robert Callahan

Policy Advocate for Energy & Environment California Chamber of Commerce

Robert Callahan has been lobbying for the California Chamber of Commerce since October 2006, currently specializing in environmental regulation and housing and land use issues. He also provides support on climate change issues

He joined the CalChamber staff in 2005 as a legislative assistant working in the areas of agriculture, resources, water, privacy, housing, education, environment and transportation. He also has lobbied on banking and finance, transportation and small business issues.

Before his work at the CalChamber, Callahan acquired knowledge and experience in public policy working as a legislative assistant for a Sacramento lobbying firm and through several legislative internships, including assisting California Senator Jim Battin and serving as an intern in Washington, D.C.

Callahan received a B.A. in both history and political science from the University of California, Davis.