Sarah Jensen
Jensen + Partners

Sarah founded Jensen + Partners in 2002 to provide a full range of owner's representation services, and has since overseen the growth of the firm to a vibrant company with a dedicated staff of professionals and a growing work portfolio. Before forming Jensen + Partners, Sarah was Vice President of Engineering and Operations Services at Amgen, Inc., and prior to that Assistant Vice Chancellor for Health Sciences Design & Construction at UCLA, where she directed the most ambitious healthcare and research development enterprise in the history of the University of California system.
