JON DeCEASARE
President, World Class Logistics Consulting

Jon DeCesare brings more than thirty years of international experience in improving supply chain strategies. In 1985, Mr. DeCesare founded World Class Logistics, where he collaborates with his clients in better understanding supply chain dynamics. In turn, this allows them to develop a more successful business strategy. Prior to his role as President at WCL, DeCesare worked for 18 years as an executive with importers and third-party logistics providers. Mr. DeCesare has personally completed more than fifty warehouse site selection optimization studies across the United States. With a vast knowledge of global chain supply, as well as 3PL operations and port sustainability, World Class Logistics remains one of the industry's top competitors and sources of information.

Mr. DeCesare graduated from California State University, Long Beach in 1969 with a B.A in Economics and a minor in Statistics. He completed graduate studies in International Management at the American Graduate School of International Management. He has also completed graduate studies in global supply chain and warehouse operations management at Michigan State University and University of Southern California. An avid sailor and member of Tau Kappa Epsilon, Mr. DeCesare currently resides in Los Angeles.
